

Media Contact:

Sam Singer
Singer Associates
(415) 227-9700
singer@singersf.com

ING Bay to Breakers 12K
By the Numbers

- 2.2 Million - estimated number of participants that the race has had in its 98 year history
- 2,250,000 - average number of page views our website gets in a year
- 472,440.945 - inches in the 7.46 mile (12 kilometer) course
- $348,295.61 - dollars raised for our beneficiaries since 2003
- 96,629 - liters of water (25,529 gallons) distributed at our water stations (enough to "power" a slip-n-slide for 51.1 hours)
- 90,000 - number of recyclable water cups used per race (almost 6 miles of cups if placed end to end)
- 80,000 - number of spectators, volunteers and staff who join the participants along the course on race day
- 80,000 - number of safety pins handed out at Expo in 2009
- 78,769 - number of registered runners who participated in 1986, the year the Bay to Breakers made the Guinness Book of World Records with 110,000 total participants
- 38,600 - pounds of waste (19.3 tons) left behind by the participants and disposed of by DPW in 2009
- 32,000 - number of registered participants in 2009
- 30,000 - number of people who come to Expo over two days in 2009
- 26,557 - number of people who registered online (versus using a paper form) in 2009; 83% of overall registrants
- 20,000 - number of biodegradable goodie bags handed out in 2009
- 16,000 - feet of barricade (over 3 miles) line portions of the course
- 13,966 - number of people who used the MUNI special event shuttle service in 2009
- 15,000 - number of people who picked up their shirts at Expo before the race in 2000
- 2,000 - number of volunteers who help out on race weekend
- 2,000- number of seventh graders who participated in the 2009 ING Run for Something Better program (up 25% from 2008)
- 705 - number of portable toilets installed along the course and at the finish line (up from 537 in 2008)
- 300 - number of media credentials issued to the press in 2009
- 250 - number of Red Cross staff and volunteers stationed at first aid tents
- 98 - number of times the race has been run since 1912 (that's every year since 1912)
- 49 - number of states (including Washington D.C. and American Samoa) represented at the 2009 race

- 42 - number of consecutive years Harry Cordellos (a blind participant) has run the race; and he swears he can point out every pothole along the course
- 29 - number of countries represented at the 2009 race
- 25 - number of registrants in the 1963 race (ok, that's a small number)
- 17 - Number of San Francisco neighborhoods the course touches (the race requires permitting on city, state, and Federal lands)
- 6 - Number of days it takes to set-up, stage and completely remove ING Footstock in Golden Gate Park
- 1 - Number of days a year San Francisco comes together to run across town and show its many shapes, sizes and colors; always the third Sunday in May